Dedication

An honored member of the Agricultural Community, Fred Painter Jeffrey was born in Trouger, Pennsylvania on February 19, 1911. Married to M. Olive McKie since June 26, 1937, they have three children, Robert, Judith, and Roy.

He received his B.S. from Pennsylvania State College in 1932, and his M.S. from Massachusetts State College in 1934.

During his professional career, Mr. Jeffrey has been employed by Rutger's University as an instructor to Associate Professor in Resident Instruction and Research. He joined the staff of the University of Massachusetts in 1944 as head of the Department of Poultry Husbandry, and in 1955 he was appointed Director of the Stockbridge School of Agriculture and Associate Dean of the College of Agriculture. He has, in the past, been acting Dean of the Graduate School and the College of Agriculture.

Mr. Jeffrey has been active in university affairs, serving on such committees as the Graduate Council, Faculty Senate, University Scholarship Committee, and acting as an advisor to a multiplicity of student groups.

He has professional and honorable memberships in several national honor societies, science organizations, tnd the American Genetics Association.

Not only a dedicated member of his profession, Mr. Jeffrey is also active in community affairs. He has served as a member of the Amherst School Committee, Amherst Community Chest, and a town meeting member.

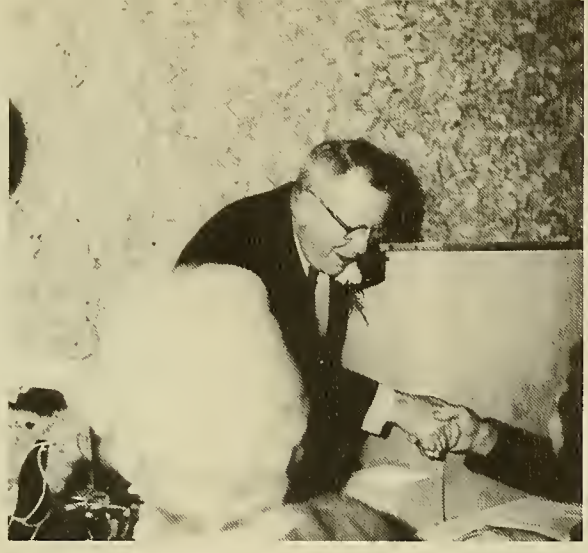
He is the senior author of twenty-four scientific and technical publications. He is also the co-author of a textbook in poultry production.

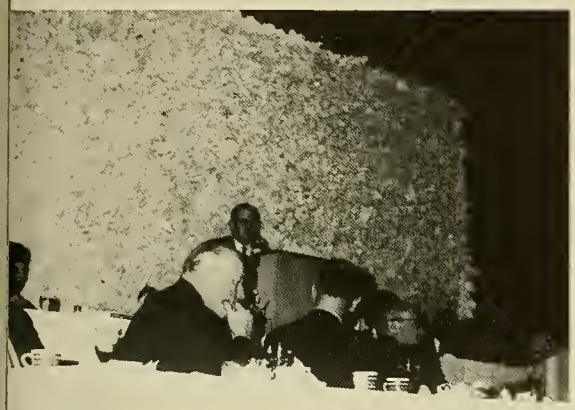
We have all enjoyed and benefitted tremendously from Dean Fred P. Jeffrey in his capacities as the Director of the Stockbridge School of Agriculture. He has unselfishly given of his time for the advancement of the school and the well being of the students. In this age of an impersonal society, Mr. Jeffrey can recall the names of students from years past. He remembers them not as numbers, but as individuals. We of the Stockbridge School wish him every success in the years to come. His patience and guidance shall long be remembered.

For reasons so noted, we the students, hereby dedicate the 1971 edition of the Stosag to our distinguished dean.

Dean Jeffrey's Testimonial

February 18, 1971





Introducing The New Dean: Dr. John W. Denison

It is with great pleasure that we welcome our new Dean, Dr. John William Denison.

Dr. Denison was born in Harrison, Maine on April 20, 1927. Upon graduation from Bridgton Academy he enlisted in the Navy as a radar technician. Following his discharge, he attended the University of Maine where he got a B.S. in Poultry Science.

He then returned to the family farm in Maine and after a disastrous fire that ruined the farm, he then held jobs as sailor, farm operator, wrestling coach, professional wrestler, deputy sheriff and Boy Scout leader.

From 1952-1962 he was employed as a sales and service manager for Wirthmore feeds and after earning a reputation of the highest calibre, was appointed first Regional Poultry Specialist in 1961 through the University of Massachusetts. He then began his graduate study which led to an M.S. in Agricultural and Food Economics in 1965.

Just recently, he has completed the requirements for an Ed. D. degree in Educational Administration. The title of the dissertation was, "A Study of the Predictive Relationships Between Admission Criteria and Academic Achievement for the Stockbridge School of Agriculture."

Dr. Denison has been very active in academic organizations such as: Animal Science Club advisor, University Calendar Coordinating Board, Placement and Financial Aid in the Veterinary and Animal Science Departments, former advisor to STOSO, a member of the Stockbridge Advisory Committee, among others. His professional and honorary societies include Alpha Zeta, Poultry Science, and Phi Kappa Phi.

He has been an author and co-author of several publications including bulletins on egg production, cage and floor plant sizes, Post-High School education in Poultry Science, and several others.

He now resides at 35 Newell Court, Amherst, with his wife, the former Aune Heino, and their two children, a son and a daughter, aged 12 and 15.

It is with sincere good wishes and the heartiest of congratulations that we extend our greeting to the new Dean, and hope that all the goals that he has set out for himself and the Stockbridge School of Agriculture will soon be achieved.

This section of the yearbook is dedicated to those students who have participated in extra-curricular activities which encompass both week day and weekend work.

Such dedicated students are those who participate on the Drill Team and the Intercollegiate Team. Amazingly enough, the University has allowed Stockbridge students to take part in these activities. Such a students is Miss Judy Falabella of the class of '71. Besides being an honor student, she has taken part in both the Drill and Intercollegiate Teams, which takes up many hours after school and just about every weekend.

We, of the yearbook, felt that such dedication should not go unrewarded, therefore, we honor those students who participate in activities which are above and beyond the call of duty, such as those who participate in these equestrian organizations.

At first glance you will notice that this year's edition is smaller than the previous editions. This is because the staff has worked on the premise that there should be quality instead of quantity. This year, we are doing something different, in that there will be a supplement, or addition containing the activities concerning the Seniors. This will be completed as soon after graduation as possible and this supplement will be mailed to the seniors and handed out with the rest of the books next fall. We sincerely hope no one is hurt or feels slighted due to this change.

Saying a word of thanks is not nearly enough. Because this year I have had an outstanding staff, a mere repeated thank-you cannot express the way I appreciate all those who so unselfishly gave of their time for Stosag 71. My deepest gratitude goes to Peg McCarthy and George Burke for their advice and photography help, Jane Roberts, Cathy Hannigan and Larry Lehto who struggled with this thing over Christmas, Prof. Ed Pira for his patience and understanding, Al Bouchard, Bob Martin, Elaine Christensen, Jean Brackley, and Frank Trovato for their help and suggestions, Shafer Studios for the photography, and Dave Lombard for being so helpful and available when needed.

I hope there are no hard feelings over this edition. I would like to thank all the students of Stockbridge, because you are the yearbook. If you are not satisfied then it is no one's fault but your own, because there was an open door at any time for your comments, and suggestions.

One more special thanks to two students for their moral support, and lots of coffee for those late nights, Cindy Cibelli and Linda Desmarais.

I felt that it has been "a very good year" and I wish the best of luck to next year's staff headed by Jane Roberts, and I hope that her staff will be as fantastic as mine was. Thank you again.
